Scoring a win with FirstNet Authority pre-planning support

- By First Responder Network Authority

Over 70,000 fans gathered to watch the Los Angeles Rams and Cincinnati Bengals play in the 2022 Super Bowl. Inglewood and Los Angeles public safety agencies spent months preparing to keep everyone safe during the weekend's events—and smooth emergency communications were an integral part of their game plan.

Part of the city's preparations included using the FirstNet Authority's pre-planning event support to help maximize the network's capabilities. This free and unique service is offered to FirstNet subscribers from the FirstNet Authority. It results in more timely and efficient decision-making, better coordinated responses, and well-managed resources and logistics.
